It may be only a coincidence, bu many persons regard it as peculiar that lmost at the same time that John W. Mr. Moss is back and as full of fight as ever. He was found at his office by in "Evening World" reporter this morning going through a mass of complaints against policemen and public officials nerally. While away he kept himself well informed of the Doherty and other matters. When asked if the ex-Captain would be called as a witness and made tell all he knows of police affairs, he eplied gravely:

Nothing is impossible. I do not care answer that question directly. All I in say is that we are looking for in-mation from every quarter and that will use all we can get. We have pt track of Capt. Doherty's case and testimony which he himself gave on witness stand before the Police Com-scioners.

the testimony which he himself gave on the witness stand before the Police Commissioners.

"It is rather early, however, to say what course we will pursue, as the Committee will not meet again until Sept. 10. Our lines are out in many directions, and we have ample time to arrange our programme."

In answer to the reporter's question whether the exposures before the Lexow Committee had served to abate crime in New York and whether the aleged blackmail on the part of the police had ceased, he replied:

"I am sorry to say that nothing of the kind has happened. The same system is in operation to-day just as bad, or nearly so, as in the old days. Different methods are pursued. The police are covering up their tracks in a much more careful mai.ner, and the task of getting evidence has been made more difficult.

"There" he added, pointing to a pile of letters lying on his desk, "are a number of complaints which have come to the Society for the Suppression of Crime, regarding the existence of disorderly houses, gambling dens and such like. Of course, the Society has been devoting itself mainly to the Lexow Committee business, but we have not yet lost sight of the fact that there are Grand Juries in New York, and that it is possible to obtain indictments. What we propose doing in that regard, however, I cannot say just now."

Mr. Moss spoke again of the Doherty matter and then proceeded to illustrate some of the methods by which it is possible the police collect blackmail.

"Suppose," he said, "that a Captain knows a man who is doing a little brokeries are drand juries in his hand, say $200 and tells him to invest it for him. He will tell the broker: I know nothing about these matters, but go ahead and make all the money you can for me."

"Then,"continued Mr. Moss, "what is the matter with the ward man, or whoever collects the blackmail, going to the broker every week or every month with the matter with the ward man, or whoever collects the blackmail, going to the broker every week or every month with the matter with th

"Of course, I don't mean to say," concluded Mr. Moss laughingly, "that Capt. Doherty got his $22,000 in that man r, but you can see the possibilities."

It was stated at Mr. Goff's office that he would not be back for at least four weeks. When he left the city last night be refused to leave any address, saying he wanted absolute rest.

man had been indicted and a legal transfer had been granted by the Governor.

Mr. Taylor held that the warrant of transfer was null and void. It specified that it should be executed within thirty days, and it was not done within two years. He cited decisions by the Couri of Appeals, which held that a process was null and void if executed after the expiration of its legal life. The legal life of this process was thirty days, and as it had not been executed within that time it had no effect now.

Mr. Battle asked for time to answer this legal proposition.

Gov. Flower said he would give him one hour, and accordingly a recess was taken for that length of time. When the hearing reconvened Mr. Taylor produced letters sent to Albert Cordago, Bauer's attorney in New York in which the plaintiff in Peoria offered to settle for a certain amount. This had great effect on the Governor. Mr. Battle could not answer the legal proposition relative to the service of the warrant.

Gov. Flower then said he would cancel the warrant on the grounds that it was void and partially on the meris of the case. He said that further action for Bauer's transfer could be brought about only by a new application from the Governor of Illinois.
